VOLUME XXXVI NO. 7

GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY MAY 5, 1943

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR

Here is to the red of it,
There is not a thread of it,
No, not a shred of it,
From foot to head,
But men have bled for it,
Faced steel and lead for it,
Precious blood shed for it,
Bathing it red.

Won't you buy a bond for it?

Local Subscriptions to Victory Loan Reach Half the Way Mark

Good progress has been made in selling Victory Bonds in the town and district during the past week. By Tuesday night with not all the reports in approximately half of the quota of $40,000 had been subscribed.

The average sale is amounting to about $160 per buyer. It is noticeable that many who have not bought bonds before are buying for the first time, and that others who have bought in the past are increasing the amount of their purchases this time.

With the quota set at $40,000 and half the amount already raised there is little doubt that the amount will be exceeded, probably by this time next week.

According to a despatch received from Ottawa by The Call bond sales on Monday amounted to $83,000,350. Cumulative first seven days of canvases amounted to $438,545,250. The total canvases with $364,965,000 an increase of $60,580,250. Nova Scotia government subscribed to the amount of $1,750,000, North American Life Assurance Co. $5,000,000 and Canada Steamships Lines $1,000,000.

Here is a list of sales men who will cover the district:

N. T. Purrell.
W. J. Phyllis.

YOUR SON AND MINE

One of those nights soon, when dress clack, the enemy above, your son and mine will be peering into the gloom, waiting anxiously for the whistling signal to attack. Our salute will be there, marking the invasion fleet, ready for the screaming, diving enemy bombers. Our fighter pilots will be drenched for battle, ready for the grimmest test of air strength the war has yet developed.

Our boys who, not so long ago, sang in Sunday school, poked nickles into juke boxes, sat on the store steps on Saturday nights, faced the broken board in the cottage deck, and walked arm in arm with the girl from a movie, are face to face now with death.

While their hearts and minds and bodies are needed to the job of wiping out the cruel foe, does anyone believe a moment's thought of the kind of waiting they will not be that about the scene of yesterday?

Fully aware of the danger they face, that this great battle will bring them to the end of the road and a soldier's grave, their thoughts will inevitably turn back for a moment just to you and to me. They will have brief glimpses, little flashes gurgling at their heart-string, a sudden question mark as they wonder what we are doing in Canada at that moment and whether we are thinking about them.

Oh, that we could miraculously appear beside them at that moment, grip their hands and say: "Good luck, my boy!" If there were only one way, we say, to let them know that we are standing behind them in spirit at least!

We have just that opportunity now. Let's not over look this certainty, that if each of us buys all the Victory Bonds he can during the sale, if we push it above that billion and one objective, the news of it will be a heartening message to your boy and mine. They will know our hearts are

In the right place, that the money we put up for them serves them all the better. Let's make the Fourth Victory Loan a roaring cheer for our boys overseas, a measure of encouragement to them at the hour of attack.

Wedding At Cluny

KEELER-CHASE

Spring flowers and ferns were used to decorate the altar of Holy Trinity church on Wednesday morning, for the wedding of Elizabeth Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chase of Cluny, son of Mrs. John Keeler and the late Mr. Keeler of Strathmore. Very Rev. Father Forster officiated at the quiet ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a blue sheer crepe gown fashioned on simple lines. Her matching veil was held with a coronet of pink rose buds. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

Miss Antoinette Keeler, as maid of honor, wore a gown of dusty rose with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. LAC William Chase of Dufur, Sask., was best man. Miss Ann Reilly played the wedding march and hymns were sung by the chapel choir.

A reception for relatives and a few close friends was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. Keeler, in Gleichen for many years, until about eight years ago died at his residence near Chestermere. Lake last week, Rev. Father Forster presided at the wedding. With his family he arrived in Gleichen shortly before 1914. Surviving are his wife, Edna; two daughters, Mrs. C. Henderson, Lebridge, and Mrs. L. Sather of DeWinton and one son, Victor, of Cooma. Funeral services were held in Calgary and burial took place in that city.

Upon their return they will take up residence in Calgary where the groom is at present stationed.

NEWS FLASHES FROM THE LOCAL ARMOURIES

All members of the unit are now equipped with webbing and respirators. It is interesting to watch the drill.

Two 18-pounders and one 75 mm. gun have been added this past week to training equipment.

Bassano Troop is coming along fine according to the O. C. and B.S.M. Boas. They need more men so that the whole battery is parading at Bassano on Friday night, May 7th and will attend a dance which is sponsored by the Bassano Troop.

There are a number of Veterans in Hussar and they want to start and train for home defence. It is hoped they will get enough recruits to justify a sub-unit there.

The unit note to Sarcee Camp from July 4th to 18th. These dates should not meet members. They must be done before May 24th. It is expected that there will be more go than in any other year.

One storage battery can supply all the lead needed for a trio of three inch anti-aircraft guns.

Indian Girls Raise $119 Red Cross

The Indian ladies of the Blackfoot Reserve are an industrious lot when it comes to collecting money for the Red Cross. Recently when the Indian received their lease money a committee of the best cooking girls on the reserve got busy and asked at who had received money to make a donation to the Red Cross and as a result collected $119.30. This money was turned over to Chairman T. H. Beach of the local Red Cross organization, who warmly congratulated the ladies for their efforts.

BUTCHERS HAVE ROLE IN SUCCESS OF MEAT RATIONING

Cooperation means Much to Meat Rationing

The merchants in Canada who sell meat will be a factor in the success of the forthcoming rationing plan according to Wartime Prices and Trade Board officials. The butcher who sells meat and collects coupons should know all the answers and be in a position to help housewives figure out the ration system it was emphasized in stores selling other commodities it will not make the number of coupons to collect every week.

For retailers, dealing entirely in meat, meat rationing will be their first experience in handling ration coupons.

To assist both the butcher and the consumer, the army is now being prepared, by meat experts, which will be instituted in advance of the rationing date to every store in Canada handling meat.

The butcher is the man who knows of the unrationed meats that can be too, and will be able to make valuable suggestions to his customers regarding the use of "fancy" meats, fish and poultry, as "off-the-ration" food.

Whole sale meat salesman, commercial travellers, nutritionists, home economists, the press, radio and movies, will all be helping explain the meat rationing during the next few weeks.

Bomber Press in Great Britain

(By WALTER R. LEEGE)

"There are miracles around us on every hand, but in this materialistic age we do not recognize them as such," was the remark passed during a conversation with an officer in England. The truth of this remark becomes more and more apparent when travelling in Britain today.

In those dark days of 1940, how often was there the thought that God must have forsaken us yet in those darkest hours miracles were being performed.

It was a miracle that the Germans did not invade England immediately after Dunkirk; it was a miracle that Hitler addressed the Bundestag in England; the defence of the Battle of Britain was miraculous. Probably the greatest miracle of all was the rescue of the army of nearly 400,000 from Dunkirk. Few people realize the miracle that made this rescue possible. When the soldiers visited Maidmenhead one day, they saw a number of small boats that made many trips across the Channel to bring back that army. Similar boats were shown in the film "Mrs. Miniver" when that epic was portrayed.

Those little boats could not possibly have lived in a rough sea and the English Channel is seldom smooth. In fact it is famous as one of the most turbulent stretches of water in the world. Yet when these little boats made those trips to Dunkirk and back, he water was smooth. We lived all their lives before the Channel say that they never saw it as smooth as it was then.

Surely that was a miracle to equal the passage of the Israelites through the Red Sea.

It is frequently remarked that the way in which St. Paul's Cathedral in London escaped total destruction is a miracle. There is no doubt that the Germans tried hard to destroy it. The bomb damage around this cathedral includes some of the worst in England. It is one of the first places visited by strangers looking for badly damaged areas. Everything is demolished for many blocks around. The cathedral now towers up in plain view from all angles, whereas it formerly was closely surrounded by buildings.

The climb up to the gallery outside the dome is about 600 steps that take 15 minutes to climb. From this elevation there is the most comprehensive view of the widespread damage in that part of London. It impresses one more and more with the conviction that the way in which St. Paul's has escaped destruction is a miracle.

It did not escape entirely however. Two bombs actually struck the building and another was removed from the grounds just outside before it exploded. The first bomb struck just over the High Altar and brought down the block of cathedral walls to one of two tons. These entirely destroyed the Altar and the pavement.

The second bomb fell in the north transept and went right through the roof and the floor into the crypt; but again the damage was comparatively slight, although the walls in north transept now four inches out of plumb and beams have been placed to prevent further movement. When the area around the cathedral is studied, and the bombs which fell on it taken into consideration, it is no wonder that everyone remarks that it is a miracle that St. Paul's is still standing.

Viscount Halifax has said, speaking of St. Paul's, "Two years ago it was hemmed in by offices, shops, and commercial buildings of every kind. All these have now crumbled to dust and ashes under Nag bomb, and today St. Paul's stands, as it should stand, clear, majestic in great cross of gold above the city, sharp against the sky. Surely there is something symbolic in that. The confused mass of buildings has gone, the rubbish has gone, but what really matters remains."

The vicious raids on the peaceful city of Bath were no less than industries or anything of military value will never be forgotten. These raids which took place in April 1942 destroyed many fine and historic buildings. Yet during those raids 92 bombs fell in gardens or open spaces where they did little damage. We were told this while looking over the city from Boschen Cliff, and it did not seem possible that 92 projectiles could have found open space. Surely this was another miracle.

As Bristol is in many other cities, there are numbers of miracles to be seen. Bristol Cathedral stands practically unscathed, although buildings all around have been damaged. Our hotel, next door to it, lost 100 rooms. Mr. Redcliffe church, of which Queen Elizabeth in 1574 said, "The fairest, goodliest, and most famous parish church in England" has also had a miraculous escape from serious damage while buildings all around it have been battered beyond recognition.

A famous landmark in Bristol was the Leaning tower of the Temple Church, which was built in 1145, and which was four feet out of perpendicular. The Church and all the buildings around it have been destroyed, yet the Leaning Tower stands up in the midst of the debris and is still four feet out of plumb.

There have been large numbers of churches totally destroyed, but there is a very remarkable thing about them. In most cases the steeple towers are still standing. From outside the dome of St. Paul's cathedral can be seen at least ten churches in the vicinity that have been destroyed including St. Mary (Bow Church), Chesapeake, Christ Church, Newgate, (formerly the Gray Friars), St. Nicholas Cole Abbey, on Victoria St.; St. Mary Somerset, on Upper Thames St.; St. James Garlick Hythe; St. Vedas, in Foster Lane; St. Lawrence Jewry, in Finsbury; St. Dunstons, in Fleet Street; St. Brigid's, and many others and in nearly every case the towers or steeples are still standing. The same thing can be seen in Bristol (where twenty-eight churches have been destroyed) and in Bath, Portsmouth and several other cities which we visited.

The towers of all these ruined churches still standing has caused people to remember, as the old saying, that the steeples carry the prayers of the people up to heaven.

These steeples and towers are visible symbols of the prayer that free people may be given the strength to remain steadfast, and that they may receive Divine aid to overcome the barbarians who would destroy the temples of God.

The miracles described are only a very few of those that are to be seen in all parts of Britain today.

News Items of Local Interest

Ted Varnall who sometime ago joined the R.C.A.F. is now a I.A.C. according to word received by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Varnall.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Delbott left Tuesday for the Peace River country. After a short sight seeing trip they will return to Gleichen.

Sgt. Gordon Campbell, R.C.A.F., and his wife of Lethbridge are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. U. Lawrence. Mrs. Campbell is a sister of Mr. Lawrence.

T. Robinson, chief engineer for the Canada Land and Irrigation Co. has returned from his home at the coast for the summer. His wife and daughter are expected to spend part of the summer at the headquarters near the Arrowwood bridge.

Mrs. Wm. Somerville was the hostess at her home, on April 24th, in honor of Miss Elizabeth Chase, a bride elect of Easter week. A musical program was carried out. Three little girls, Ann Kodford, Hazel Gordon and Elsie Jones presented the gifts in a gaily decorated basket. More than forty guests called during the afternoon.

Promotions of a number of personnel in the Calgary sub-division of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have been announced by Superintendent W. R. Day, officer commanding R.C.M.P. in Calgary. Among the promotions was Constable F. A. Amy, in charge of the Gleichen detachment, who has been promoted to corporal.

Bob Haskayne, proprietor of the Pioneer Meat Market has had his place of business renovated on the outside with a coat of paint. Other owners of houses noticing that a little paint makes a decided improvement in the appearance of a building are talking about having their places painted. If this is done the town will have a brand new appearance.

Many vehicles, both trucks and passenger cars, are reported to be attempting to obtain gasoline without complying with regulations of the Oil Controller, which state that stickers must be pasted on the windshields. The offence has been drawn to the attention of the Enforcement Administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Prices and supply Representative Walter S. Campbell, has issued the following statement: Filling stations are still supplying gasoline to automobiles without stickers on the windshields. This is contrary to the Oil Controller's Order O.C. 12 and a warning is given to all filling stations and owners of automobiles that this practice must be discontinued immediately.

Three application forms must be filled in by persons entitled to obtain small arms ammunition under recent rationing regulations of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and they must be sent together to the nearest Local Ration Board or the source of supply. Farmers needing small arms ammunition to protect livestock against prying animals and birds, prospectors and persons living in remote areas who depend upon wild game for food are entitled to obtain small arms ammunition.

Promotions announced at headquarters, M. D. 18, include two Canadian Women's Army Corps personnel, both in Calgary. L. Cpl. Lilian A. Stachfield of Strathmore is promoted to the rank of sergeant with No. 13 Vocational Training School, and is in charge of C.W.A.C.

personnel (drivers) at A16 G.I.T.C., Currie Barracks. Prior to enlistment she drove farm machinery for her father, and after his death ran that end of the farm work; she also did road work in the Strathmore district. Pte. Catherine Elizabeth Goldsmith of Cluny is promoted to the rank of corporal. She is stationed at Currie Barracks, No. 16 Co. C.W.A.C., as pay clerk, and was clerk in civil life.

Meanless Tuesdays, which commenced May 4th, will eliminate all meat dishes from the bill of fare in public restaurants across Canada, through recent regulation of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Henceforth hamburgers and meat sandwiches will be off Tuesday's quick lunch menu. Reduction of consumption of meat is the object of the new order officials of the ration administration state. Canadian shipments of meat to Britain, where Canadian armed forces as well as the civilian population is supplied must be maintained. The order does not apply to use of meat in the home, but when meat rationing is launched in Canada next Tuesday, it will prevent more than those who eat at home, or carry a lunch. Hospitals and ships, and catering places for people engaged in manual labor are exempted from the order.

WHEAT STEIN SAWFLY

Just one year ago, we emphasized the sawfly threat. We directed the attention of farmers to an excellent description of control methods, Special Pamphlet No. 59, and placed a copy in all line country elevators. Let us remember two facts. Firstly, the sawfly is still a major and, secondly, it can be controlled. The results of research and experimentation are, year by year, leading to more effective control methods.

Last year, Dr. K. M. King and Dr. C. W. Farish, through the cooperation of farmers, conducted a series of 18 sawfly trap demonstrations. The results are full of meaning to all wheat farmers in sawfly areas. We quote from the report: "In every district except the well-planned sawfly traps gave very worthwhile control in 1942. They show clearly that good sawfly traps can be highly effective in Saskatchewan."

In the trapped fields, as an average, is less than 200 at the margin, or sufficiently infested, to result in severe losses of heads due to hibernation. Comparable untreated wheat was severely infested to more than 1100 heads from the margin, on the average of the districts represented in this study.

It is estimated that, on the average, at least ten times as many heads of wheat were lost in the untreated fields than in the comparable trapped ones.

Write to Dominion Entomological Laboratory at Lethbridge, Saskatchewan or Brandon for Special Pamphlet No. 59 and other information, and ask your local line elevator agent for a copy of "The Wheat Stein Sawfly".

World's Champion Wheat Grower Recommends VICTORY BONDS

Born in England, the "Wheat Wizard of Saskatchewan" spent his early years as a clerk in the Old Country. In 1888 he emigrated to Canada, and homesteaded north of Saskatoon where he learned the elements of farming. In 1900 he was attracted to the Northern district where he purchased, for less than one thousand dollars, the 160 acre farm on which the celebrated experiments which made his name a household word in Western Canada were carried out.

One of his initial achievements was producing 40 bushels of wheat to the acre on three inches of rainfall.

In 1911 he scored one of his greatest successes when, with a bushel of Marquis wheat, he won the "world's champion" title at the New York City Exposition. He was awarded the prize of $1,000 offered by Mr. Thomas Shaughnessy. In 1914 and 1915 he won similar honors, and earned for himself the appellation—"The World's Champion Wheat Grower".

For his services to Canadian agriculture, Senger Wheeler was honored in 1916 by a doctor of laws degree conferred by Queen's University.

Dr. Wheeler says:

"If Canadians were asked to give money to help to win the war we would not be asked to make a big sacrifice. Some are giving their lives. We are asked to lend money. I am sure that farmers throughout Canada will be glad to lend money to their country, for like all other Canadians, they know we must do all we can to help."

"There is a practical reason for buying Victory Bonds, too. The money we lend to Canada now, to help to win the war, will be ours to use as we please after the war has been won. Ready cash will be handy to have when we will want to replace farm equipment that is wearing out now. A farmer can always find a use for savings, and there is no better way to save than by investing all we can in Victory Bonds."

"Back the Attack!"

WHAT A VICTORY BOND IS:

A Victory Bond is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay to each the full face value of the bond at the time specified, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3 1/2 per annum (3 1/2 per cent) on the principal. The Dominion is authorized to issue Victory Bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to redeem its obligations. A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.
